Welcome to Católica Porto School of Business and Economics

To those who are joining us now and to those who are already part of our community, we hope this guide will help you better understand what sets us apart and, above all, make the most of everything Católica Porto School of Business and Economics (Católica Porto SBE) has to offer, throughout your master's studies and well beyond it.

We want you to take away much more than a degree. We believe in an education that combines academic rigour, close links with businesses and an international outlook with the qualities that define us as people: curiosity, critical thinking, empathy, the ability to listen, collaborate and lead. In a world of constant change, what makes us human is also what makes us irreplaceable.

Católica Porto SBE is the business school of Universidade Católica Portuguesa in Porto, internationally recognised for its Triple Crown accreditation - EQUIS, AACSB and AMBA - and for its presence in global rankings, including those published by the Financial Times (FT) and Quacquarelli Symonds (QS). Our students have high employability rates and strong career progression.

But the master's experience goes far beyond academic learning. Close interaction with faculty, businesses, professionals and alumni, real-world projects and challenges, and international opportunities - from mobility programmes to Double Degrees, Summer Schools and other experiences abroad - allow you to learn in different contexts, develop new skills and build a truly global network.

And we want this connection to continue after your master's degree, through an active Alumni community that returns, engage and contributes to the future generations.

Make the most of every opportunity. Ask questions, experiment, meet different people and challenge yourselves.

Because knowledge opens up many possibilities.
But it is the development of the whole person that makes each of us irreplaceable.

It is for the School's Management Board to decide whether or not this request is approved after hearing the coordinators of the programmes involved.

Is it possible to request a "freeze" of enrollment in the year of admission to the master's program?

No. In the year of admission to the Master's programme, only the cancellation of enrolment is permitted with a refund exclusively of the 1st instalment paid, provided the request is made before the start of classes in the 1st semester.
A possible return to the programme in question will require a new application, subject to the selection criteria in force in that academic year.

How and when to obtain or renew the status of working student and what are the academic benefits that may result from it?

To obtain or renew the working student status, a formal request must be submitted each semester through the Fenix platform to the Board of FEG/Católica Porto SBE, by the deadline of October 31st for the first semester or March 31st for the second semester.

In the request must include supporting documentation that proves the student's employment situation, adapted to the relevant type of employment – whether with a private entity, public entity, or as a self-employed worker – as outlined in Article 2 of the FEG/Católica Porto SBE Student Workers Regulation.

Once officially granted, working student status provides academic benefits such as early course registration, exemption from the mandatory minimum number of credits per semester, and waiver of the academic progress rules set out in the Master's Regulations.

Under what conditions can absences from academic activities in enrolled course units lead to the implementation of compensatory measures for incomplete assessment components?

Only exceptional or involuntary situations, in line with those listed in Article 17 of the Master's Regulations, will be considered for the possible implementation of compensatory measures for missed intermediate assessment components. Even in such cases, students must submit a formal request, along with clear supporting documentation issued by the relevant official authorities, within a maximum of 5 working days from the date of the occurrence or condition that caused the absence from academic activities. Failure to meet this deadline will result in the automatic rejection of the submitted request.

How to request a suspension of enrolment in the Master's programme?

The suspension of enrolment in the Master's programme must be formally requested by submitting an application to the Directorate of FEG/Católica Porto SBE via the Fenix platform. Upon approval, the monthly tuition fee payments will cease immediately. However, charges will remain active until the date of submission of the request.

Can I enroll in the Final Master's Assignment with my master's degree programme incomplete?

In accordance with the provisions of Article 25, Admission to the MFA depends on a successful completion of the master's degree course, or a maximum of 6 ECTS of delayed course units, subject to a positive review by the master's programme Director. "

How are Merit Scholarships awarded?

The award of Merit Scholarships does not require the submission of a formal application. Scholarships are awarded by the Master's Programme Directorate in accordance with the criteria set out in the FEG/Católica Porto SBE Regulations on the Award of Merit-based Scholarships for Master's Degree Students, and the results are published by official notice.

The Regulations, which set out the eligibility and award criteria, the applicable procedures, and the arrangements for the publication of the results, are available for consultation on the Campus Online.

Are there any scholarships available for international internships as part of the Master's Final Assignment (MFA)?

In order to encourage Master's students to have an international experience, Católica Porto SBE created an internship scholarship program within the scope of the Master's Final Assignment (MFA). The value of the Scholarship consists of a 20% discount on the MFA fee, for students who carry out an international internship that includes the completion of an MFA in a business environment.

This Scholarship can be complemented by the Erasmus+ scholarship for international internships. For more information, please contact the Global Education Office (gloaledu.cpsbe@ucp.pt).

How can I take advantage of Católica Porto SBE International dynamics?

Católica Porto SBE offers a wide range of international opportunities that allow MSc students to enhance their academic and professional journey on a global scale. In addition to the Double Degree programmes and the International Study Week, students can benefit from several international mobility schemes (ERASMUS+ and others), which enable them to spend a curricular semester at a partner university abroad – with the possibility of academic recognition upon return.

Students may also complete their Master's final assignment (MFA) in an international organisation or firm when carrying out an internship that includes the completion of an MFA in a business environment.

For additional information on mobility schemes and other international opportunities, in particular the list of Católica Porto SBE partner universities, regulations, etc., please go to the School's website, refer to the documentation available on Campus Online or contact Global Education Office, Américo Amorim Building (gloaledu.cpsbe@ucp.pt).

What is the International Study Week about?

Católica Porto SBE, together with Tilburg University (The Netherlands), Luiss Business School (Italy) and Nottingham Business School (United Kingdom), has the privilege to be part of the network of Business Schools that offer their Master's students of the MSc in Management and MSc in Marketing, the possibility to participate in an International Study Week in one of these four Universities.

During this week, students from these four business schools have the chance to participate in a short-term international experience that will allow them to gain knowledge, broaden horizons and experience other cultural realities.

For further information about the International Study Week, please contact the Global Education Office (gloaledu.cpsbe@ucp.pt).

FAQ's about master's final assignment

How does the choice of topics for the master's final assignment work?

Every year, the Católica Porto SBE asks teachers and organisations to suggest a set of topics for the Master's Final Assignment (MFA). The latter are then allocated to students through a competition. Before the competition takes place, students have access to the topics approved by the coordinators of each master's programme on Campus Online. Students wishing to register for the MFA but who do not enter the competition must choose from the list of topics available after the competition (remaining topics). The Master's Final Assignment begins in the semester following the allocation of the topics. Students are required to comply with the conditions laid down in Article 25 of the Master's Programmes General Regulations.

What is the maximum limit of words in the Master's Final Assignment?

The Master's Final Assignment (MFA) must not exceed 10,000 words in the main body of the text. The total word count must be indicated at the end of the table of contents. For the purposes of the word count, the cover page, acknowledgements, declarations, abstract, resumo, table of contents, lists, references, appendices, annexes and the list of prompts are excluded.

The word count includes all content in the main body of the text, including title of chapters, section and subsection headings, footnotes, and the text contained in tables, figures and diagrams, together with their respective titles and captions.

Who should I get in touch with to clarify doubts about the master's final assignment topics suggested by Católica Porto SBE?

In the case of topics suggested by organisations, students are welcome to get in touch with Career and Development Office to clarify their doubts (careers.cpsbe@ucp.pt). All doubts regarding the topics suggested by lecturers must be clarified with them.

Can I suggest a topic for the master's final assignment?

Yes, you can, provided that you comply with the terms, conditions and deadlines set by the School's Board of the Directors. The students who suggest topics of their own are not allowed to apply for the topics offered by the School, unless the topic that they have suggested is not accepted by the School. If you have any questions about the process of assigning a topic for your Final Master's Work, please contact the Education Office (education.cpsbe@ucp.pt).

What should I include in the master's final assignment's plan? What kind of support is available to me?

Your plan should include all the elements that are specified in the Research Seminars I form and teaching materials annually posted on FEG/Católica Porto SBE-UCP management's Campus Online. Although the assessment of the MFA Plan is carried out entirely by the Research Seminars III teaching team, one or two meetings should take place between the student and their supervisor to provide guidance during the preparation of the plan, particularly with regard to its content. Regarding the topics suggested by organisations, students may contact the organisation to clarify doubts and ask for any information that they need to draw up their plan. All contacts with organisations must be communicated to Career and Development Office (careers.cpsbe@ucp.pt).

Can I submit my master's final assignment before the submission deadline?

Yes, you can, with the agreement of your supervisor and provided students pay their MFA's tuition fees in full.

Can I extend the master's final assignment's submission deadline?

Students are normally expected to submit their Master's Final Assignment (MFA) after completing their registration (one semester). However, under the terms of the Master's Programmes General Regulations (articles 11 and 30), students are entitled to a maximum of three registrations, provided that they do not exceed the maximum period laid down in article 11. In order to complete a second MFA application, students are required to submit an opinion from their supervisor. A third application to the MFA must be accompanied by an opinion from the supervisor and from the master's programme coordinator. Students who do not submit their MFA are only awarded a diploma regarding the curricular component of the master's programme.

Is it possible to defend the master's final assignment without the curricular component completed?

No, in order to defend the MFA you must have the curricular component of the master's programme (master's course) completed.

Can I replace the final version of the Master's Final Assignment (MFA) after submitting it to the academic office?

Students are not allowed to make any changes to their Master's Final Assignment (MFA) after its submission to the academic office.

What is the schedule and format of the public defence of the Master's Final Assignment (MFA)?

The public defence of the MFA takes place in a mandatory in-person format and can occur in four distinct periods: July, October, December, and March, depending on the submission date of the MFA – see page 41 of the Student's Handbook. Individual defence sessions are scheduled on any day within the months mentioned above. It is the student's responsibility to ensure their presence on the date, time, and location officially communicated for the public defence. Only situations of justified force majeure (absolutely unforeseen and involuntary), officially certified, will be considered by the Master's Programme Direction for a possible single postponement, to the next defence period, respecting the maximum deadline of six months after submission. Unjustified absences on the originally scheduled date, or on the rescheduled date (if postponement is granted), will result in automatic failure in the respective Master's programme – see paragraphs 1 to 3 of Article 36 of the General Regulations for Master's Degrees of FEG/Católica Porto SBE.

If the suspension of enrolment in the Master's programme is not formally requested (through an official request), are tuition fees still payable?

Yes. Tuition fees remain payable until the suspension of enrolment is formally requested. The obligation to pay only ceases once the request has been formalised with the competent services (via Fenix).
